About Eventful People

At Eventful, we truly believe in the power of people, which is why we bring innovative and passionate people together, and showcase the incredible progress they're driving.

Our events are special because we create an atmosphere where connections, idea sharing, learning and growth happens. Join us in celebrating the talent, technology and innovation transforming business intelligence.

Our totally unique recipe

We begin by collaborating with BI industry professionals through research groups. In these sessions, we attentively gather insights into the challenges, industry trends, and technology investment plans they're facing.

This distinct process ensures that the research we produce is both authentic and highly accurate. It's achieved through robust discussions and constructive debates within these research groups. The outcome is a Community Report, which forms the backbone of our conference agenda.

What makes our conferences unique is that they are shaped by the very community they serve. They're grounded in the actual challenges our community encounters day in and day out. They bring us their questions, and we provide the answers.

At the BI Innovation & Tech Fest, a unique convergence occurs. It's where the magic happens, fostering a deep sense of ownership within the community. As the event unfolds, the natural enthusiasm and engagement of our audience effortlessly generate the energy and momentum needed for a successful gathering.

This exciting gathering of Business Intelligence and Data thought-leaders, disruptors and experts offers two unforgettable days of learning and connecting. BI Innovation & Tech Fest promises cutting-edge content, tangible take-aways, and meaningful connections, no matter where you are on your innovation journey. Join us to learn how to optimise your processes, inspire your people and to prepare adequately for the future!

“A powerful sense of ownership from the community is created”
